Anchorage International Airport Master Plan Update Now Complete

Ted Stevens Anchorage International Airport has completed its Master Plan Update, which will help guide future airport development.

The Master Plan Update is now available online at www.ancmasterplan.com/library.

Print copies of the Master Plan Update may be viewed at the Z.J. Loussac Library (3600 Denali Street, Anchorage, AK, 99503) and at the ANC Administration Offices (5000 West International Airport Road, Anchorage, AK, 99502, 4th Floor).

Included in the Master Plan Update is Comment Response Report #5. The report includes responses to comments on the public review draft of the report received between June 30 and September 1, 2014. You can view the report online via the Master Plan Update website library, or by visiting one of the locations with print copies of the report listed above.

- Thank you -

The Airport would like to thank the individuals, organizations, and businesses that participated in the Master Plan Update process. Input provided by the diverse range of Master Plan Update participants was vital to the development and assessment of alternatives and, ultimately, to the selection of the demand dependent, phased approach for the Plan for Future Development.

The Ted Stevens Anchorage International Airport will continue to serve an integral transportation role in Alaska and the world. Developed through a thorough and inclusive planning process, the Master Plan Update will strategically position the Airport for the future and assist the Airport in continuing to meet its mission to "develop, operate, and maintain the Airport for Anchorage, Alaska, and the World."
